

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PRESERVES COSTA RICA, OUR ESSENCE PRESERVED

- The quality of our fruits and vegetables is reflected in the processed products that are placed in international markets. Through our traceability processes, we are able to transform our fruits and vegetables into canned foods that are a versatile possibility derived from the exotic and tropical flavors of Costa Rica.

Features

Some of the types of preserved fruits and vegetables that can be found in Costa Rica are heart of palm, pineapple, papaya, cassava, beans, mango, rambutan, pejobaye (peach palm fruit), and jalapeño.

Recent studies indicate that both canned fruits and vegetables, are mainly marketed through two important channels: retail and food service.

A main characteristic of this sector is its adaptation to customer needs according to the taste of the international market, which in turn allows for a greater focus on the creation of private brands.

The presentations used in this category: glass and aluminum can.
